The list shows a total of seventy-six medals and thirty-nine honorable mentions, making 115 recompenses in all. This is the largest number awarded to any foreign nation, and the awards in the other classes of Group II, are also large in proportion to the number of works exhibited in the United States section. In sculpture three medals of honor were awarded Augustus St. Gaudens, Daniel C. French and Frederick MacMonnies being the recipients. If the absence in the list above of the names of some well-known painters who have pictures at Paris be noted, it should be remembered that artists were not eligible for awards lower than they had received in previous Paris Expositions. Several Franco-Americans, also, after the award of gold medals was announced, informed the jury that they would not accept silver or bronze medals and the story in Paris was that influences were brought to bear on the French members of the jury to prevent the award of silver medals to American artists residing in the United States, who were on the slate for that distinction. The entire list of awards is to be reviewed by the superior jury, but none will be taken away. It is possible that a few additions may be made to the bronze medals and honorable mentions.

A society known as the Spanish American War Nurses' Association has been organized this fall in New York. The president is Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee, acting assistant surgeon United States Army, detailed to the Army Nurse Corps, now with the Surgeon General's office, Washington.

Morning, leader of the Current Topics department. A meeting like this is the only effective means by which the points of view of school board, superintendent, teacher and parent are heard, debated or understood. The following was the program:

A charter has been granted by the American Federation of Labor for a union of Women Book-keepers in Chicago and the organizers have been asked to start a similar organization in New York. The Federation demands that women should be paid as much as men for the same work, and it maintains that one of the reasons of the poor pay of clerks of all kinds in New York is that women work for lower wages than men.

The Norfolk Woman's Club met with a good attendance on November 19th. The first paper on the program was "Commercial and Political Growth of the United States since the Civil War." This was followed by a Magazine Review by Mrs. Utter. The event of the afternoon was the explanation of the telephone by Mr. Sprecher, who brought an instrument to the meeting and dissected it, explaining as he went along, the minute workings of the invention. This was done to supplement Mrs. A. J. Durland's paper on electricity. During the business session an invitation from our neighbor, the "Stanton Sorosis" to an afternoon luncheon on Friday November 23rd, was read and accepted. About thirty members are planning to attend.

Plans are now being made to organize at the State University, an extension class in Domestic Science. The first lecture will probably be given at two o'clock on Saturday, December 1st. There will be twelve lessons in the first course. Each lesson will consist of one lecture and two hours' practical work in the kitchen laboratory. The lectures will be given by Miss Bouton. The laboratory work will be on Saturday from three to five immediately after the lecture. Those desiring to enter this class will do well to make definite arrangements as soon as possible since only a limited number can be accommodated in the kitchen laboratory. For further particulars, see Miss Bouton at the University.

Women in New Fields.

Miss Emily L. Worden of Milwaukee, makes a good income as a buyer of game. She makes a trip every three years to the hunters of northern Wisconsin and disposes of her purchases to good advantage at Milwaukee.

Mrs. Ira E. Tott of Long Beach, California, is at present the only woman who has founded and managed an entire electrical plant successfully. Mrs. Tott went to California from the east five years ago. She has evidenced great business ability in selecting Long Beach California, as her base of operation, as she is near the fashionable watering-place Terminal Island as well as San Pedro, which will soon be the seaport of Los Angeles. Mrs. Tott is an expert electrical engineer, and superintended the building of her plant, purchased the machinery, and no detail was too small for her personal supervision.—Chicago Times-Herald.

The Athenae club met with Mrs. Holyoke yesterday afternoon. Program "Early Christian and Celtic Architecture."

The Fortnightly club met with Mrs. Taylor on Tuesday. Mrs. Gere had the subject for the afternoon:

The popular propaganda of Christian Social Ethics has always been officially recognized as the legitimate field-work of the sociological department in the Chicago Theological Seminary, and as a principal part of regular settlement service. So far as the prior obligations and settlement administration allow, such of the many invitations to speak are responded to as seem to offer opportunity for the widest or most needed service, irrespective of the size of the community and without regard to "terms," altho but a small proportion of the opportunities thus presented can be accepted.
